

REDISCOVERING WONDER: EMBRACING LIFE'S CHILDLIKE MAGIC

Sharma Komal Bansidhar

Research Scholar
Sheth Damodardas School of Commerce
Gujarat University- 380009
sharma.komal0096@gmail.com
ORCID ID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-9121-5362>

Life, like a kid, needs a touch of play,
A dash of wonder to brighten each day.
With eyes wide open and hearts pure,
Let's rediscover the magic that life can secure.

Embrace curiosity, let it lead the way,
Like a child exploring, eager to stray.
Seek joy in the simplest of things,
A butterfly's dance, a bird that sings.

Unleash laughter, let it bubble and burst,
Like a child's giggle, unrestrained and nursed.
Find humor in the mundane and absurd,
Let go of worries, let your spirit be stirred.

Embrace imagination, let it soar high,
Like a child's dreams that paint the sky.
Build castles in the air, let fantasies bloom,
Let your creativity break free from the gloom.

Nurture friendships with an open heart,
Like a child's bond, untainted from the start.
Share love freely, without judgment or strife,
Embrace the beauty of connection in your life.

Embrace resilience, like a child's brave heart,
Face challenges head-on, refuse to fall apart.
With each stumble, rise and try again,
For in perseverance, true strength will begin.

Hold onto innocence, let it shape your view,
Like a child's purity, steadfast and true.
See the world through eyes untarnished by time,
Discover its wonders, both sublime and sublime.

So, let life be like a kid, vibrant and free,
A treasure trove of possibilities for you and me.
With open hearts and spirits unbound,
Let's navigate life's journey, joyously profound.